

STATEMENT

A highly motivated energetic developer is seeking to Secure software development role or similar position to further develop knowledge in a more practical and fast paced environment. I have strong technical and interpersonal skills.

Eager to learn and be challenged to grow and improve my communication and gain more It Skills.

Objective.

— Career vision

My focus over the past two years has been full stack Development. Every development is custom, utilising various frameworks. First starting out with Bootstrap, and pushing my skillset with more modern javascript frameworks such as React Js and utilising headless content management systems and java FX desktop management system.

cv |

My passion lies in the development of design, seamless animations and interaction between users and application. Learning about design and development patterns, relationships, training the eye to see whitespace and writing clean code has been part of this journey. It is incredibly rewarding to witness and be responsible for a design to transition to a digital presence, giving it life.

The vision is to continuously build on my skillset making software development the sole focus. Becoming competent across modern web technologies, producing highly interactive interfaces and pairing high quality design, being pixel perfect, while meeting the highest quality standards of development.
